

Sarah Boyd , female, early to mid thirties, any race. CEO and Founder of Tactix. Conventionally attractive. Wears slacks, black turtle necks, and either black or gray puffy vests. Often wears red lipstick.

Alexis Lyons , female, late twenties to thirties, any race. Journalist. Charming, able to make most people she comes in contact with trust her right away. Can at times be overconfident in her charm.

SARAH

So this is a feature? Not just in the tech section?

ALEXIS

That's right.

SARAH

Oh, I was, Greg and I had talked about a smaller piece-

ALEXIS

You're not shy are you? Wasn't that you I saw on the cover of Forbes last year?

SARAH

It was, I just like to plan these things out-

ALEXIS

Well now you know.

SARAH

Yes. Great!

ALEXIS

So great.

SARAH

Yeah, great, great... I guess tomorrow will be a rough day for that assistant of yours.

ALEXIS

I'm sorry?

SARAH

The one who let the update fall through the cracks. The one I imagine will spend tomorrow crying after you fire them-

ALEXIS

Oh, well, you know. We all get one mistake now and then. And plus she, she has aspirations of becoming a journalist-

SARAH

Oh, I see.

ALEXIS

Got to help out other women when you get the chance, right?

SARAH

Some people do see it that way.

ALEXIS

I'm sure you do it all the time.

SARAH

I don't, actually.

ALEXIS

Oh?

SARAH

I hate the- The whole women must stick together bull shit we get spoon fed.

ALEXIS

Really? That's-

SARAH

Shocking?

ALEXIS

Unexpected, what with you running a company full of women-

SARAH

I started Tactix with Jennifer Weaver because she has a profound and keen understanding of both organic and inorganic chemistry, I did not pick here because we both have vaginas.
